*Manager of American League squad.

Calvin R. Griffith, Twins' President

The Minnesota Twins go into the 1964 season with the highest degree of optimism the club has yet enjoyed in its brief lifetime in the Upper Midwest. This in spite of the fact that the past two seasons were tremendously successful years for the Twins, both on the playing field and in the ticket office.

The emergence of the Twins as one of the powers of the American League since the club's 1960 shift to Minnesota stands as a tribute to the baseball sagacity of club president Calvin Griffith.

It was only after much soul-searching and many years of deliberations that Mr. Griffith elected to make the big move of the club to the Upper Midwest. The wisdom of the decision was almost immediately apparent as the Twins drew the remarkable attendance of 1,256,722 in their maiden Minnesota season of 1961. This total far exceeded their top attendance for any of the 60 seasons in which the club had operated in Washington, D. C.

In 1962, fans flocking into Metropolitan Stadium from all over the area swelled season's attendance to an all-time club record figure of 1,433,116. The team on the field responded accordingly, climbing from their seventh-place finish of 1961 to a strong second-place windup in 1962.

In 1963, although injuries held the club to a third-place position in the league's pennant chase, attendance kept up the pace, totaling a league-leading 1,406,652.

Optimism toward 1964 is based on this proven fan following coupled with the fact that 1963's injured players appear to be solid once again. It's an optimism shared by the entire Twins' official family. Mr. Griffith, in particular, feels that in 1964 his hopes and ambitions engendered through his long experience in the game could be realized.

Perhaps more than any other high executive in baseball, he was groomed to run a ball club. This he has been able to do, serving as his own general manager without that title but within his portfolio as Twins president.

Born Calvin Robertson in Montreal, he was adopted and brought to Washington by his uncle, Hall of Famer Clark C. Griffith, one of the great old-time pitchers, co-founder of the American League, and patron saint of baseball in the District of Columbia.

He began as mascot of the pennant-winning Washington teams of 1924 and '25 and was educated at Staunton Military Academy in Virginia and George Washington University in the Capital City.

In 1935, Uncle Clark assigned Calvin to a three-year hitch as treasurer and president of the Senators' Chattanooga farm team. From 1938 through '41, he held the same two posts at Charlotte.

At Chattanooga and Charlotte, Calvin even had some whirls at managing and proved a two-fisted leader. His Charlotte clubs won a pennant, barely missed two others and broke attendance records. He helped prepare for the majors such players as Early Wynn, Al Evans, Jake Early, Jim Bloodworth, Sherry Robertson, Joe Haynes and Bobby Estalella.

He married Natalie Niven of Charlotte and they have a son, Clark II, and two daughters, Corinne and Clare.

In 1942, Calvin was recalled to Washington to serve as his Uncle Clark's chief lieutenant. He began by operating the club's concessions department at Griffith Stadium. He had whirls as traveling secretary and in public relations. Then, he was permitted to negotiate the Senators' radio and television contracts. Later he was given authority to negotiate player trades.

On October 27, 1955, Clark Griffith passed away, and Calvin was elected president of the Senators five days later.

With his decision to transfer the Senators to Minnesota, on Oct. 26, 1960, Mr. Griffith brought to Baseball's New Frontier an era brimming with the promise of victory and excitement in concert with the boom of the Upper Midwest.

Manager

MELE, Sabath Anthony "Sam"

Born January 21, 1922, in Astoria, Long Island, New York. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Quincy, Massachusetts.

In the short span of two and a half seasons under manager Sam Mele, the Minnesota Twins have ascended from the depths of the second division to solid ranking as one of the outstanding clubs of major league baseball.

The Twins were mired in ninth place when Sam took over on June 23, 1961. Under his guidance, the club played near-.500 ball for the balance of the season and moved up to a seventh-place standing by the time the curtain rang down in September.

In each of 1962 and 1963, the Mele-guided Twins won 91 games, finishing a strong second in '62, and third in 1963.

The 3-season managerial ledger for Mele shows a total of 227 victories against only 190 defeats, a .544-clip, one of the top marks among active major league pilots.

A fine player in the majors for 10 years, Sam played the outfield and first base equally well, had a strong arm and hit with occasional power.

He left his mark on the major league scene. In 1947, he was named the American League's top rookie. In '51, he led the league in doubles, and in '51 and '53, he was the top outfielder in the league defensively. In '53, he set the league record for most consecutive errorless games by an outfielder in a season, 131, handling 212 chances.

In the fourth inning of a game on June 10, 1952, Sam tied two major league records with his bat. He tripled and homered in the same inning, equalling the record for most long hits in an inning (2), and he batted in six runs, tying the mark.

Sam signed his first contract with the Red Sox when he was in his third year at New York University. He had lettered in basketball as well as baseball. In January, 1949, he wed the former Constance Mary Clemens and the couple now has four children.

TWINS MEDICAL STAFF

GEORGE (DOC) LENTZ is in his eighteenth season as the team's trainer. A native of Williamsport, Pa., he trained teams at Dickinson Seminary and Catholic and George Washington Universities. He also taught classes for trainers at George Washington. His patented protective helmet is used by most major league teams. In the fall, he is a member of the speakers bureau of the Twins public relations department.

DR. WILLIAM E. PROFFITT, JR. took over as Twins' club physician after four years in the same position with the now defunct Minneapolis Millers of the American Association. Born in Danville, Ill., schooled in Buffalo, N. Y., and graduated from the University of Minnesota, Dr. Proffitt half-backed the Gophers in 1932, '33 and '34, the latter a national championship year. Dr. Proffitt also lettered in track and was the University's heavyweight boxing champion in 1934 and '35. An active swimmer, water skier and golfer, Dr. Proffitt is married and has a son and daughter.

While playing ball, Sam also wrote a newspaper column for a daily in Quincy, Mass. After retiring as a player, Sam became a scout for the old Senators and then a coach. Since the move to the Twin Cities and his appointment as manager, Sam has acquired a pre-game radio program during the season.

ALLEN, Bernard Keith "Bernie" Second Baseman

Born April 16, 1939, in East Liverpool, Ohio. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Lafayette, Indiana.

Bernie Allen experienced a somewhat up-and-down season in 1963 following his brilliant rookie campaign of 1962. A number of reasons have been advanced to explain Bernie's difficulties during the past season, but the important thing is that he finished up strong over the past couple of months indicating that he'd found the answer to his troubles and was once again on his way to becoming the top-flight star the Twins' management expects him to be. As late as the morning of August 18, Bernie was batting a lowly .198. From that point through the rest of the season, he slugged at a .322 clip, getting 46 hits in his final 143 trips to the plate to wind up with a season's batting mark of .240. Although he fell short of the 12 homeruns he hit in 1962, a club record for second basemen, Bernie continued to demonstrate a potential for power with a total of nine round-trippers. While completing work on his degree at Purdue University last fall, he served as an assistant coach of the school's freshman football squad. Bernie is a former star quarterback at Purdue.

ALLISON, William Robert "Bob" Outfielder

Born July 11, 1934, in Raytown, Missouri. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 220 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Edina, Minnesota.

Bob Allison has been tabbed by his manager, Sam Mele, as one of several Twins who have yet to reach their full major league potential, and Bob's performances over the past couple of seasons indicate his skipper knows wherewith he speaks. On the heels of two consecutive 100-rbi seasons, Allison in 1963 enjoyed an even finer season, soaring to a personal major league batting high of .271, and leading the American League in runs scored with 99. His 35 homeruns were also a personal topper for him and they contributed mightily to the Twins' league-leading total of 225 homers, a figure topped in major league history only by the 1961 New York Yankees. His .533 slugging percentage ranked him second in the league, outdistanced only by teammate Harmon Killebrew. His performance earned him a berth on the 1963 American League All-Star squad, the second time he's been chosen to participate in the Dream Game. His other All-Star performance came in 1959, when he was named the American League's Rookie of the Year. With 138 career homers, Allison has moved into fourth-place on the club's all-time power list behind Killebrew, Roy Sievers and Jim Lemon. A year-round Twin Cities resident (he's an off-season salesman for the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., as well as having a year-round local television show), Bob was recently elected the American League's Player Representative. He succeeded Chuck Stobbs as Twins' player representative in 1961.

ARRIGO, Gerald "Gerry" Pitcher

Born June 12, 1941, in Chicago, Illinois. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Amelia, Ohio.

Brought up to the Twins at the tag end of last season, Gerry Arrigo pitched most impressively for the club in his five appearances. Blessed with a great arm, Arrigo appears now to be on the threshold of winning and holding a major league job after three brief trials. Drafted from the Chicago White Sox' system in December of 1961, Gerry's potential of developing into a major league pitching star has always been highly regarded.

BANKS, George Edward "Reb" Third Baseman

Born September 24, 1938, in Pacolet Mills, South Carolina. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Pacolet Mills.

A consistent long-ball hitter, drawling George Banks is expected to make a strong bid to cop a berth as a utilityman with the Twins in 1964. George plays both third base and the outfield and poses a definite threat as a pinch-hitter. His minor league homerun and rbi totals have always been impressive. In fact, he led the Eastern League in 1961 in both of those departments, a feat which gained him a berth on the circuit's All-Star squad. In 1958, he not only paced the Florida State League in runs batted in but led in triples, as well. His mobility in the field is emphasized by the fact that he led the Pacific Coast League's third basemen in assists last season.

BATTEY, Earl Jesse, Jr. — Catcher

Born January 5, 1935, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 235 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Attesting to Earl Battey's stature among modern-day major league catchers is the fact that he has been named the American League's starting catcher in each of the last three All-Star Games. He's also a three-time winner of the Gold Glove Award, given annually to the top defensive player at each position in both the American and National Leagues. The contention that his throwing arm is the strongest and most accurate in the business is amply supported by the fact that he has led American League catchers in assists in each of the four seasons in which he has played as a regular. The 1963 season was probably Earl's finest in all respects, but particularly was it an outstanding one for him in the offensive statistics. He established personal highs for himself (as well as club records for a catcher) in homeruns and runs batted in. Last November, Earl underwent an operation on his knee, performed by Dr. William Proffitt, Jr., team physician. The condition had troubled Battey for several years, and he played the entire 1963 season with an elastic brace over the knee. A former basketball standout who at one time considered signing with the Harlem Globetrotters, Battey makes his home in the Twin Cities and is a member of the public relations department of General Mills, Inc., during the winter months.

BETHEA, William Lamar "Spot" Infielder

Born January 1, 1942, in Houston, Texas. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Houston.

A product of the University of Texas, Bill Bethea's first-year performance in 1964 stamped him as a sure-fire future in the major league book. In fact, his fine play at both Billings and Tulsa last summer prompted the Twins to add his name to their roster via the major league draft last December. Bethea's prepping under coach Bib Falk at Texas enhanced his development to the point that the St. Louis Cardinals signed him for a considerable bonus payment last June. Bill is continuing his education at Texas during the off-season.

A four-year farmhand of the Twins, Pete Cimino is receiving his third spring shot with the parent club. Possessor of a good fastball, Pete has had impressive strikeout records throughout his minor league career. He was originally scouted for the Twins by Harry Gutelius and signed by the club's Executive Vice-President, Joe Haynes.

DAILEY, William Garland "Bill" Pitcher

Born May 13, 1935, in Arlington, Virginia. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Phoenix, Arizona.

"Won't You Come Home, Bill Dailey" proved to be a smash hit with Metropolitan Stadium fans in 1963. 66 times the Met faithful greeted Bill's arrival on the scene to the accompaniment of that tuneful ditty, paraphrased just a bit to suit the occasion. Invariably, Dailey proved himself well worth the musical festivities as he consistently doused the fires of enemy bats. Purchased with little fanfare from the Cleveland Indians on April 9, 1963, Bill started rather slowly, pitching unspectacularly in his first seven appearances. On May 6, though, he caught fire, not allowing a run in his next 10 outings, covering 17 and two-thirds innings. He maintained a torrid pace throughout the balance of the season, reaching his peak, in fact, on July 7, when his ERA dipped to a season's low of 1.55. His 13 saves and 6 victories established his ranking as one of the premier bullpen specialists in the game today. And, his 66 appearances established a new all-time record for the club, breaking the previous standard of 64 set by Fred Marberry back in 1926. Bill is also one of the most colorful players in the game, his comic antics in the clubhouse and on road trips making him highly popular with his teammates.

DOTTER, Gary — Pitcher

Born August 7, 1942, in St. Louis, Missouri. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single. Lives in St. Louis.

A young lefthander who made great strides in 1963, Gary Dotter was inducted into the United States Army on January 28, 1964, and thus will miss most of the coming season while training in the Army's 6-month program. Dotter adopted a new, somewhat herky-jerky pitching style under manager Jack McKeon at Dallas-Fort Worth last season. As a result, he enjoyed a fine last half of the Pacific Coast League season and pitched most effectively in two September appearances with the Twins. Gary joined the Twins' system via the draft route from the St. Louis Cardinals in December, 1960.

FISCHER, William Charles "Bill" — Pitcher

Born October 11, 1930, in Wausau, Wisconsin. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Rothschild, Wisconsin.

Selected from the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League in the annual major league draft last December, Bill Fischer is returning to the organization from which he was traded to the Detroit Tigers on July 22, 1960. Fischer spent almost two full seasons with the Griffith organization when it was based in Washington. He was acquired by the club on waivers from Detroit, September 11, 1958, and returned to the Tigers in the 1960 transaction, which was a waiver-trade for Tom Morgan, the ex-pitcher who is now roving pitching coach for the Los Angeles Angels. With the Griffs, Bill had a total won-lost record of 12 and 19. He lost his only three decisions with the club in 1958, was 9-11 in 1959, and won 3 while losing 5 before leaving the club in 1960. Bill toppled a major league record set by the great Christy Mathewson back in 1913, when he went 84 and one-third innings without issuing a base on balls in 1962. Fischer was a mainstay in relief with the Kansas City Athletics before being released to Portland at the end of last season. Bill began in baseball as a member of the Chicago White Sox' organization.

GORYL, John Albert "Groucho" Infielder

Born October 21, 1933, in Lonsdale, Rhode Island. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Cumberland, Rhode Island.

Returning for his third year with the Twins, Johnny Goryl has proven to be one of the most valuable of major league draft picks in recent years. Selected from the roster of the Los Angeles Dodgers' Omaha farm club of the American Association in December, 1961, Goryl has been of tremendous value to the Twins as a utilityman these past two seasons. In fact, he enjoyed the finest season of his three-and-one-half-year major league career last summer when he belted American League pitching for a solid .287 batting average and nine homeruns. But his hitting tells only part of the story of John's value to the club. He has filled in at second, third and shortstop, and has done an admirable job defensively. Originally a member of the Boston-Milwaukee Braves system, John has also performed for the Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers' organization.

A first-year draft selection by the Twins at the minor league meetings in San Diego, California, last December, Jimmy Glover arrives on the major league scene amid glowing scouting reports. Jimmy is a former student at Arkansas State Teachers College in Conway, Arkansas.

GREEN, Leonard Charles "Lenny" Outfielder

Born January 6, 1933, in Detroit, Michigan. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 177 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Detroit.

A solid, all-round performer throughout his career, Lenny Green qualified for the major league players' pension plan early last season when he passed the five-year mark as a big leaguer. Since joining the Twins in a trade for Albie Pearson, May 26, 1959, Lenny's consistent play has made him a perennial favorite with the fans. Although displaced from his regular centerfield job by Jimmie Hall last June, Green continued to demonstrate his value to the club in pinch-hitting and defensive situations. Employed by the Twins in a public relations capacity in the off-season, Lenny has proven to be in tremendous demand as a headliner at all stops on the Twins' Tours.

HALL, Jimmie Randolph Outfielder

Born March 17, 1938, in Mount Holly, North Carolina. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Belmont, North Carolina.

A rookie "find" in 1963, Jimmie Hall took over the regular centerfield position in the Twins' lineup on June 13, and proceeded to establish an all-time American League record for homeruns by a first-year player. In doing so, Hall cracked the old standard of 31 set by the great Ted Williams in 1939. This performance enabled him to finish in a tie for fourth place among the league's slugging leaders with a percentage of .521. A whiplash swinger, Jimmie generates tremendous power from a comparatively slight build and appears destined to become one of the really fine hitters in the game. His defensive play is also top-drawer. Not only is he blessed with great speed but he also owns an outstanding throwing arm, as witnessed by his top-flight total of 13 assists during the season. His fine performance during the year earned him the nod as centerfielder on the Topps' Major League Rookie All-Star team as well as high ranking in the balloting for the American League's Rookie of the Year. Jimmie also established himself as a front-liner on the speaking platform following the season. He made a big hit touring the Upper Midwest as a member of the Twins' traveling public relations troupe.

KAAT, James Lee "Kitty" Pitcher

Born November 7, 1938, in Zeeland, Michigan. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Although experiencing an off-year in 1963, Jim Kaat remains one of the most highly-regarded young southpaws in the business. Possessor of a brilliant fastball, fine curve, good change-up and razor-sharp control, Kaat has all the tools necessary to achieve greatness in his art. One of the prime objectives of manager Sam Mele and his pitching coach, Gordon Maltzberger, during 1964 spring training will be to find the answer to Jim's problems of 1963 and return him to his form of 1962. He was the top lefthand winner in the American League that year and was named to the league's squad for the second All-Star game. Other distinctions in his career include a record-setting 19-strikeout performance against Nashville in the Southern Association in 1959, and selection to the American Association's All-Star team in 1960. Jim's great defensive abilities have led American League ballplayers to vote him the outstanding fielder at his position in both 1962 and 1963, for which he received the Sporting News - Rawlings Gold Glove Award each of those years.

KILLEBREW, Harmon Clayton "Killer" Outfielder

Born June 29, 1936, in Payette, Idaho. Height 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 213 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Ontario, Oregon.

Gradually assuming a more and more dominant position among the great sluggers of the modern game, Harmon Killebrew added new conquests to his page in the record books in 1963 when he paced the major leagues in homeruns and led the American League in slugging percentage, .555. For the third time in his five years as a regular, he led or tied for the American League's homerun crown. In fact, over that five-year span, his 212 homers clearly outdistance the total of his nearest major league rival for the same period, Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, who has 202. His 45 homers in 1963 reduced his homerun frequency ratio from 13.1, to one every 12.8 official trips to the plate. Only Babe Ruth, who averaged one roundtripper for every 11.8 official trips, stands ahead of Harmon in the all-time homerun-frequency tables. Last July, Harmon was named to the American League All-Star team for the fifth time in his career. A troublesome knee condition which bothered Killebrew in 1963 was corrected by surgery in Caldwell, Idaho, last December. The first bonus player signed by the Griffith organization, the Killer was signed by controller Ossie Bluege, then farm director, in 1954, after Bluege was tipped as to his prowess by the late Senator Herman Welker of Idaho. In high school, Killebrew was also quite some shakes as a football player, as was his father before him. The elder Killebrew, Clay, played a lot of fullback for Millikin College and West Virginia Wesleyan. Harm's grandfather, his namesake, was also quite an athlete. He was reputed to be the heavyweight champion of the Illinois detachment of the Union Army during the Civil War. During the season, Killebrew doubles as a television sportscaster, hosting a regular pre-game program on WTCN-TV.

Born August 19, 1941, in Poughkeepsie, New York. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 186 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Bismarck, North Dakota.

A side-winding righthander who started and finished the season with the Twins in 1963, Fred Lasher stands a good chance of making the grade with the Mele-men as a reliefer in 1964. Fred relies on an outstanding fastball and a good slider. He pitched exceptionally well in several of his appearances with the Twins last year. Since becoming a member of the Twins' organization, Fred has established his permanent residence in the Upper Midwest. Married to the former Miss Judy Ann Gibbons of Bismarck, he now makes his home in the North Dakota Capital. While playing for Bismarck-Mandan, he was named to the Northern League's All-Star team in 1962.

The only first-year player on the Twins' roster, Dennis must be counted against the club's 25-man player limit if he is optioned to the minor leagues in 1964.

MINCHER, Donald Ray "Minch" First Baseman

Born June 24, 1938, in Huntsville, Alabama. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Meridianville, Alabama.

One of the most fantastic batting sprees of recent years in the major leagues was enjoyed by Don Mincher during the 1963 American League campaign. Starting with a doubleheader against Cleveland on July 14, big Minch embarked on a 10-game hitting streak during which he picked up 19 hits in 32 trips to the plate . . . a fantastic .594-pace! His hits included 8 homeruns and a double, and he accounted for 18 runs batted in. Three times during the stretch he hit a pair of homers in a game, and on one occasion he belted a grand-slammer.

NIESON, Charles Bassett "Chuck" Pitcher

Born September 24, 1942, in Hanford, California. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Richfield, Minnesota.

One of the outstanding young righthand pitching prospects in the Twins' system, Chuck Nieson has become a full-fledged Minnesotan since joining the organization. He is married to the former Miss Judith Ann Wydella of Richfield. They met when Chuck was confined to St. Barnabas Hospital in Minneapolis for elbow surgery in September, 1962. His wife-to-be was employed as an X-ray technician in the hospital at the time. Chuck went under the knife again last December when team physician Dr. William Proffitt, Jr., operated on him to correct a hernia condition.

NOSSEK, Joseph Rudolph "Joe" Outfielder

Born November 8, 1940, in Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Euclid, Ohio.

Signed by scout Dick Wiencek in June, 1961, for one of the largest bonuses ever paid by the Griffith organization, Joe Nossek enjoyed his third successive solid season in the minor leagues when he batted .293 in the tough Pacific Coast League in 1963. Joe, a former student at Ohio University, is also a fine defensive player. Normally a centerfielder, he has also been pressed into action on occasion as a third baseman.

OLIVA, Pedro "Tony" Outfielder

Born July 20, 1941, in Pinar del Rio, Cuba. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in St. Petersburg, Florida.

A major league bat. That concise description is most apt when applied to the Twins' young outfielder, Tony Oliva. Tony has been at or near the top of the batting heap in every league in which he's played. In 1961, he led all of Organized Baseball with a .410 average for the Wytheville club. He followed that with a strong, second-place finish in the Florida Winter Instructional League batting chase. He was nosed out of the South Atlantic League batting championship in 1962 by .0002. Teammate Jimmie Hall beat him out by just 4 percentage points for the Instructional League championship that winter. Last summer, he ranked 6th in the Pacific Coast League's batting parade. And, this winter, playing for Arecibo in the Puerto Rican League, he led the circuit right down to the final gun before San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda sneaked ahead of him, .368 to .365. Known as "Tony," because he used his brother's passport to get into this country from Cuba, Oliva has experienced little difficulty with major league pitching, either, in his two brief, late-season trials with the Twins. This looks like Tony's year to challenge for the toughest hitting test of them all . . . a major league batting championship.

PASCUAL, Camilo Alberto "Little Potato" Pitcher

Born January 20, 1934, in Havana, Cuba. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Miami, Florida.

Camilo Pascual assumed a firm niche behind Walter Johnson in the all-time ranks of pitchers on Griffith clubs when he reached the 20-game pinnacle for the second successive season, in 1963. Adding significance to his big win totals is the fact that in each of the past two seasons he has been inactive for lengthy stretches due to arm trouble. In 1962, he was out for a period covering 34 days, and in 1963, his arm-trouble stretch spanned 36 days. Despite this history of arm miseries in recent years, Pascual has copped a total of 85 victories over the past five seasons, a figure which sharply contrasts with the 28 wins he racked up in his first five American League campaigns. In 1964, he needs just six wins to achieve the second highest total of victories ever recorded by a pitcher with this club. Johnson leads with the insurmountable total of 414, with Dutch Leonard, 118, and Fred Marberry, 115, currently next in line. In addition, he has paced the league's hurlers in strikeouts for the past three seasons. Only Warren Spahn, Robin Roberts and Whitey Ford, of pitchers currently on major league rosters, exceed his lifetime total of 1520 strikeouts. From July 28 through August 30, 1963, Camilo recorded eight consecutive victories, setting a standard for the club since its move from Washington.

PERRY, James Evans, Jr. "Jim" Pitcher

Born October 30, 1936, in Williamston, North Carolina. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats left and right, throws right. Married. Lives in Plymouth, North Carolina.

The 'Sophomore of the Year' in the American League in 1960 when he tied with Baltimore's Chuck Estrada for the most wins in the circuit, Jim Perry was acquired by the Twins in a trade with the Cleveland Indians for lefthander Jack Kralick, May 2, 1963. Jim proved to be one of the most effective hurlers on the team's staff through the first half of the season, winning 8 games by June 27. In fact, the four games he lost during that stretch were by scores of 2-0, 2-1, 3-1 and 4-2. Although he experienced some difficulties during the last half of the campaign, hopes are high that Jim will return to his previous form in 1964. A good hitter, Perry compiled an average of .300 in his rookie major league season, 1959. His brother, Gaylord, pitches for the San Francisco Giants.

POWER, Victor Pellot "Vic" First Baseman

Born November 1, 1931, in Arecibo, Puerto Rico. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Edina, Minnesota.

Recipient of the Gold Glove Award for the sixth straight year, Vic Power's stature as the outstanding defensive first baseman in the game goes unchallenged. Since coming to the Twins with Dick Stigman from Cleveland in a trade for Pedro Ramos in April, 1962, Power has captured the imagination of the Upper Midwest fan. Ticket demand for seats along the first base line has increased considerably since Vic joined the club. So great is his fielding prowess that it oftentimes overshadows the fact that he is also one of the fine hitters in the game. He is probably without a peer as a hit-and-run man. A fine bunter, he led the league last year with 13 sacrifice bunts. He's also a dangerous man on the basepaths, as attested by the fact that on August 14, 1958, he stole home twice in the same ballgame. A durable performer, he has never played less than 127 games nor batted less than 462 times in 10 major league seasons. Last season, when not playing first base, Vic filled-in in an almost sensational style at both second and third base. Power has found the Upper Midwest to be an area much to his liking, and as a result, he has established his permanent home in the Twin Cities. During the past two winters, he has traveled the area with the Twins' touring public relations crew and has made a legion of friends for himself and for the Twins.

PLEIS, William III "Shorty" Pitcher

Born August 5, 1938, in St. Louis, Missouri. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Kirkwood, Missouri.

The 'little' man of the Twins' staff, Bill Pleis did some 'big' pitching on several occasions in 1963, his first full major league campaign. Pleis was one of the club's most dependable relievers throughout the season and was also used in several spot starting assignments, including his only complete game in the big show, an 11-4 win over Washington, June 28. Deceptively fast, and with a good assortment of pitches, Shorty consistently demonstrates a capacity for remaining cool under fire.

RATLIFF, Paul Hawthorne — Catcher

Born January 23, 1944, in San Diego, California. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in Houston, Texas.

A kid with an 'eye-popping' talent, Paul Ratliff has been labelled as a 'can't miss' star of the future by all observers who've watched him play. One of four players who've received what can be considered 'big' bonus payments to sign a Twins' contract since the move of the club to Minnesota . . . the others are Bernie Allen, Jim Roland and Joe Nossek . . . Ratliff has all the tools necessary to make it big on the major league level. Paul has tremendous power, a strong throwing arm, good speed, and fine defensive ability behind the plate. Although he spent most of 1963 in the minors, he was counted on the Twins' 25-man roster throughout the season because of his first-year status.

ROLLINS, Richard John "Rich" — Infielder

Born April 16, 1938, in Mt. Pleasant, Pennsylvania. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Burnsville, Minnesota.

Although he was named 'Sophomore of the Year' in the American League in 1962, and so was technically a 'junior' last season, 1963 was the year in which observers feared the so-called 'sophomore jinx' might strike Rich Rollins. These fears appeared justified when Rollins got off to a slow start and was, in fact, hitting only .200 as late as May 14. Had Rich begun the season on May 15, however, he would have wound up the season as league batting champion with a .322-average, based on the 150 hits he garnered in 466 at-bats from that point. At it was, he wound up third in the race behind Boston's Carl Yastrzemski and Detroit's Al Kaline. A hard-working disciple of conditioning, Rich has made rapid strides since his graduation from Kent State University in 1960. In 1962, he was the starting third baseman for the American League in both All-Star games. He has paced the Twins in batting and in total hits in each of his two seasons as a regular. Rich was bothered during 1963 by a sore hip that affected his mobility in the field, but Mayo Clinic treatments last winter eliminated the condition. Rich became a father for the first time on January 26, 1964, when John Frederick Rollins made the family a three-some. The Rollins now make their permanent home in the Twin Cities area. Last winter, Rich was employed as a representative of Midway Ford Co., in St. Paul.

REESE, Richard B. "Dick" First Baseman

Born September 29, 1942, in Leipsic, Ohio. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Leipsic.

The top-ranking hitter on the Twins' Bismarck-Mandan farm club of the Northern League last summer, Dick Reese is considered a fine, all-round first baseman with a good chance to make the major league grade. He led the Northern Loop's first basemen defensively in 1963. He spent the past winter in Uncle Sam's Army, and as a result, was forced to report late to the Twins' Orlando, Florida, training base. He was obtained by the Twins via the draft route from the Detroit Tigers' system in December, 1962.

ROLAND, James Ivan, Jr. "Jim" Pitcher

Born December 14, 1942, in Franklin, North Carolina. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Married. Lives in Orlando, Florida.

Before arm trouble beset him on June 5, last season, Jim Roland had proven himself worthy of everything the Twins' executive vice-president, Joe Haynes, said about him when he signed him to the largest bonus contract ever paid by the Griffith organization to a pitcher. Haynes said at that time that Roland was a sure-fire major leaguer with all the tools to be a truly great hurler. Less than two years later, the tall, slim lefthander burst onto the major league scene with a shutout over the Chicago White Sox. He maintained the pace through the seventh inning of an eventual shutout over the Kansas City Athletics on that June evening before he was forced to leave the game because of a sharp pain in his pitching elbow. He was virtually through for the balance of the campaign, making just one more league appearance, a one-third of an inning stint against the New York Yankees on July 18. Encouraged by the performance of his arm in that brief engagement, he pitched 7 innings of an exhibition against the Milwaukee Braves, July 22, allowing just 3 hits and one run, before the pain returned. He returned to his Orlando, Florida, home shortly after that and rested his arm completely over the winter. Club physician Dr. William Proffitt examined the arm in the Twin Cities at the time of the mid-winter Writers' Banquet in January, and expressed great optimism for a return to form by Roland in 1964.

ROGGENBURK, Garry Earl "Roggy" Pitcher

Born April 16, 1940, in Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 6 ft. 6 in. Weight 195 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Cleveland.

In the spring of 1963, the Minnesota Twins found themselves obliged under terms of the first-year rule to keep Garry Roggenburk on their roster during the American League season. It was felt that this would hamper Garry since he was a young pitcher who could profit by regular work in the minor leagues. After just a few outings, though, Roggenburk demonstrated that he could get the work he needed in the major leagues, and do a real major league job in the process. By season's end, he was hailed as a real 'find' who had developed into the club's most consistent left-hand relief pitcher. A Dayton University grad, he centered and co-captained his college basketball team to the NIT championship in 1962. Garry is married to a one-time speed-skating champion, the former Miss Karen Dorenkott.

STANGE, Albert Lee "Stinger" Pitcher

Born October 27, 1936, in Chicago, Illinois. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

Dispatched to Dallas-Fort Worth on May 9, 1963, Lee Stange quickly demonstrated his major league ability by mowing down Pacific Coast League hitters in a spectacular fashion. Recalled by the Twins on June 15, Stange continued the pace and solved the Twins' need for a righthand starting pitcher. His final earned-run average was sixth best in the American League. The last remaining bachelor among the holdover Twins, Lee deserted the ranks of the benedicts on December 21, 1963, when he was married to the former Miss Diane Dahl of Minneapolis. An all-round athlete, Lee attended Drake University on a football scholarship after starring in football, basketball and baseball at Proviso Township high school near Chicago. Last spring, he captured the annual major league baseball players bowling tournament at Tampa, Florida, with a 2-game total of 451. This performance earned him an off-season job last winter as an instructor and public relations representative for the Brunswick Corp., as a member of the Brunswick Advisory Staff.

SIEBLER, Dwight Leroy — Pitcher

Born August 5, 1937, in Columbus, Nebraska. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 184 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Omaha, Nebraska.

Purchased from the Philadelphia Phillies' Arkansas farm club on August 24, 1963, Dwight Siebler pitched most effectively for the Twins through the balance of the season and is being counted upon heavily to help solve the club's long relief problem in 1964. Siebler possesses a good assortment of stuff, including a 'sneaky' fastball. Phils' manager Gene Mauch expressed great disappointment in losing him, but under terms of baseball's player control regulations, the Philadelphia club was obliged to leave the righthander on the Arkansas roster until after the major league draft. Feeling he was certain to be selected in the draft, they consented to sell him to the Twins for a price described by Calvin Griffith as "the most cash I've ever expended for a pitcher."

STIGMAN, Richard Lewis "Stig" — Pitcher

Born January 24, 1936, in Nimrod, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Married. Lives in Burnsville, Minnesota.

The only native-born Minnesotan on the squad the past two seasons, Dick Stigman in 1963 rose to the position of number one lefthander on the Twins' staff. Only teammate Camilo Pascual and Detroit's Jim Bunning exceeded Dick's total of 193 strikeouts in the American League. His total of 15 victories is deceiving because, were it not for a number of heartbreaking defeats, the tall southpaw could easily have been a 20-game winner. An All-Star

STIGMAN SETS STRONG FIELDING PACE FOR MAJOR LEAGUE HURLERS

A close look into the fielding figures of major league pitchers reveals that the Twins' Dick Stigman is setting a man-sized pace for the rest of the slabmen to maintain. A veteran of four full major league campaigns, Stigman has yet to commit his first big league error. He's handled 73 chances cleanly in his 136 games in the American League. Every other pitcher who has been in the majors for at least three full seasons has been charged with at least one error. No other active pitcher, regardless of how long he's been in the big show, has been errorless over the past four seasons. Only Bob Turley, now a coach with the Boston Red Sox, can match that mark. Turley committed his last major league error on April 17, 1959. Stigman's record breaks down as follows: 19 chances handled in 41 games in 1960; 14 in 22 games in 1961; 17 chances over 40 contests in 1962; and 23 chances cleanly handled during 33 1963 games. The last Twin pitcher to make a name for himself in a fielding way was Camilo Pascual, who handled 150 chances without an error during a three-year stretch covering 88 games, from September 19, 1958, to September 3, 1961.

selection in his rookie year, Stigman is a year-round Twins Cities resident employed by Midwest Building Services during the winter months.

TALBOTT, Jeffrey "Jeff" First Baseman

Born January 9, 1945, in Stamford, Connecticut. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in Stamford.

In the Appalachian Rookie League last season, Jeff Talbott fell 33 plate appearances short of qualifying for the league batting championship. He was named to the Topps Bubble Gum Class A (East) All-Star minor league team for 1963, after having been chosen as the Topps Player of the Month for August in the Appalachian circuit. A student at the University of Connecticut, Jeff was originally signed by scout Frank McGowan to a Baltimore bonus contract. Signed as an outfielder, he was also used as a catcher with the Bluefield club on occasion during 1963. It is the plan of the Twins to convert him into a first baseman.

A versatile performer, Jay Ward is equally at home either at third base or in the outfield. In fact, he has also taken an occasional turn at both first and second base. During his career, Jay has been a member of the Yankee, Athletic and Dodger organizations before joining the Twins' Vancouver farm club in a 1962 Pacific Coast League trade with Spokane for ex-Twin hurler Bert Cueto. VERSALLES, Zoilo "Zee" Shortstop

Born December 18, 1940, in Havana, Cuba. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 150 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

Zoilo Versalles' ambitions to achieve stature in his chosen profession were realized in 1963 when American League players voted him their starting shortstop for the annual major league All-Star Game. He was further honored at the conclusion of the season when the players selected him as their choice for the shortstop post on the Sporting News-Rawlings all-star fielding team, and the resultant Gold Glove Award. Possessed with great speed, Zoilo has tremendous range in the field, as well as one of the strongest throwing arms in the business. No slouch as a hitter, Versalles led American loop batsmen in triples in 1963, and in 1962 he established a club record for homeruns by a shortstop. Zoilo is a year-round Twin Citian, having become a home-owner in Bloomington. He toured the Upper Midwest with the Twins' Tours the past two winters.
